

Sixth Annual MOLA Latino Health Symposium

Abriendo Caminos | Paving New Pathways Technology & Innovation in Latinx Health Care

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of the program, attendees will be able to:

- Understand key issues in Hispanic/Latino/a/x health and health disparities on a local, regional, or national level, while highlighting how technological advancements impact health and health disparities.
- Identify evidence-based strategies and innovative technological advancements to address gaps and barriers in Hispanic/Latino/a/x health, particularly addressing new methods of disease prevention, diagnosis, translational medicine and treatment options for Hispanic/Latino/a/x patients.
- Describe innovative strategies that leverage technological resources, such as social media and online platforms, to optimize academic research, community practice and educational development.
- Discuss new technology and strategies in health policy or education that increase equity and representation of Latinos/as/x in medical and health-related careers and are unique to the skills and experiences of Latino/a/x professionals.
